

WAM canoe class launched on Ebeye

The first canoe building and life-skills training on Ebeye got underway last month. Among activities in the ongoing, six-month program for 25 youth have been a clean up of the area being used for working on canoes (bottom); a visit to Bank of Marshall Islands (below) where all trainees established bank accounts into which their stipends are paid; classroom learning on carpentry skills (left) with Johnny Ninjine and Scott Hazzard performing measurement calculations; and lashing of outriggers to the canoe hulls.
